1 PURPOSE OF DOCUMENT

This document is aimed at new users of the Horslips Fan-Tasia interactive Web Site, thereafter referred to as "Web Site".

It demonstrates how to navigate around the Web Site and how to use the numerous interactive features. It does not however teach basic browser navigation skills.

The Web Site address of the interactive part of "Horslips Official" is http://www.horslipsrecords.com/fan_tasia but the user can be redirected to this site automatically from the main Horslips website at www.horslips.ie.

This manual attempts to cover most of the functions available, however some of the lesser used or known functions will not be covered. This guide will mainly concentrate on the many ways to manipulate posts, namely reading and submitting posts.

Self explanatory options in themselves will not be covered in greater detail.

2 BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Before the inauguration of the interactive part of the site, Horslips fans could gather around a simple Guestbook system previously hosted on the www.horslips.ie domain.

The Guestbook was decommissioned and this new facility was created for the following reasons:

It is hoped that the new site will provide much more functionality for the visitors who truly want to contribute to the site – to give "ownership" of the site to the Fans.

This site is managed by user "Admin". It would be a good idea to read posts from Admin as these contain important information regarding the usage of the site.

There is an option to "show" who is using the site, however the overall aim remains to respect everyone's privacy therefore this option has been switched off indefinitely.

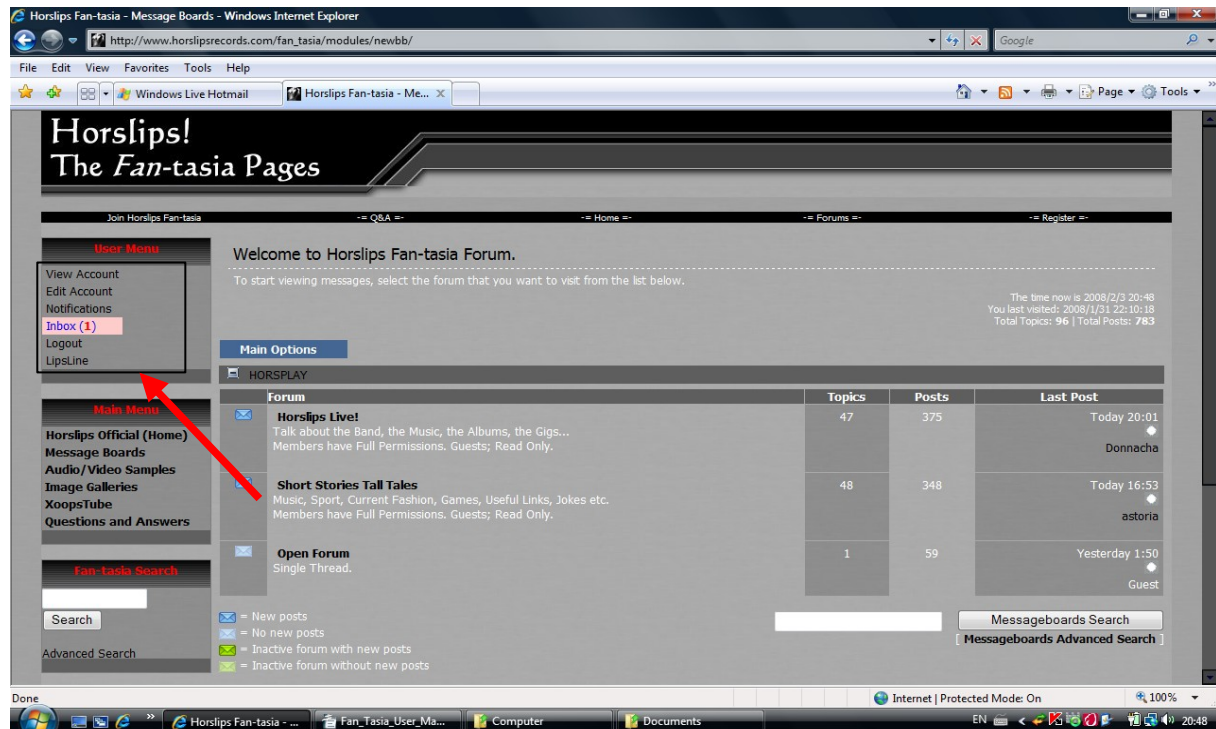

3 GETTING STARTED

3.1 Options Overview

Unregistered users are currently permitted to post messages at the "Open Forum". They will not, however, be able to fully use the full interactive functionality offered on the site. They will not for example be able to post on the main For a - these are reserved for registered members only.

The opening page you will see when opening the Fan-tasia link resembles the following (pic 1).

Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages

Pic 1

Initially, a brief description of each menu option is given here. Each option will be then detailed in full in the subsequent document topics. Some options listed below, being self-explanatory, will not be explained in greater detail.

The options below are those options available when you are NOT logged in.

Login Section

Login: If you are a registered user, here you enter your logon ID and password in the box above - marked with the red arrow.

Lost Password: If you have lost your password, you can have a replacement emailed to you it by clicking "Lost Password".

Register now!: This initiates the automatic registration process.

Register Manually: A different way to register. At this stage you only need to enter minimal information. An email will be sent to the site administrator who will complete registration for you. (Note: Admin does not keep a list of passwords – these are encrypted in the database. IE Admin does not see or know your passwords.)

Main Menu

Message Boards: This is where all fora can be found and posts can be submitted and read.

Audio/Video samples: Short audio/video clips of Horslips material uploaded by Admin.

Horslips Official (Home): This link takes you to the Horslips Official Web Site, all of the Official Horslips material is still available there.

Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages

Image Gallery: Users can upload photos from concerts or special events. It is encouraged that the images here should really have something to do with Horslips. For other non-related images or photos you wish to share with everyone, the user is invited to upload these using the fora, when submitting posts. Alternatively, the user can add a link to an image residing on the Internet, within the post itself.

Xoopstube: This is merely a place-holder in which you can include links to previously uploaded YouTube videos. Ideally this should be reserved for Horslips type material. (Although a folder has been created for fun/interesting things to share too.)

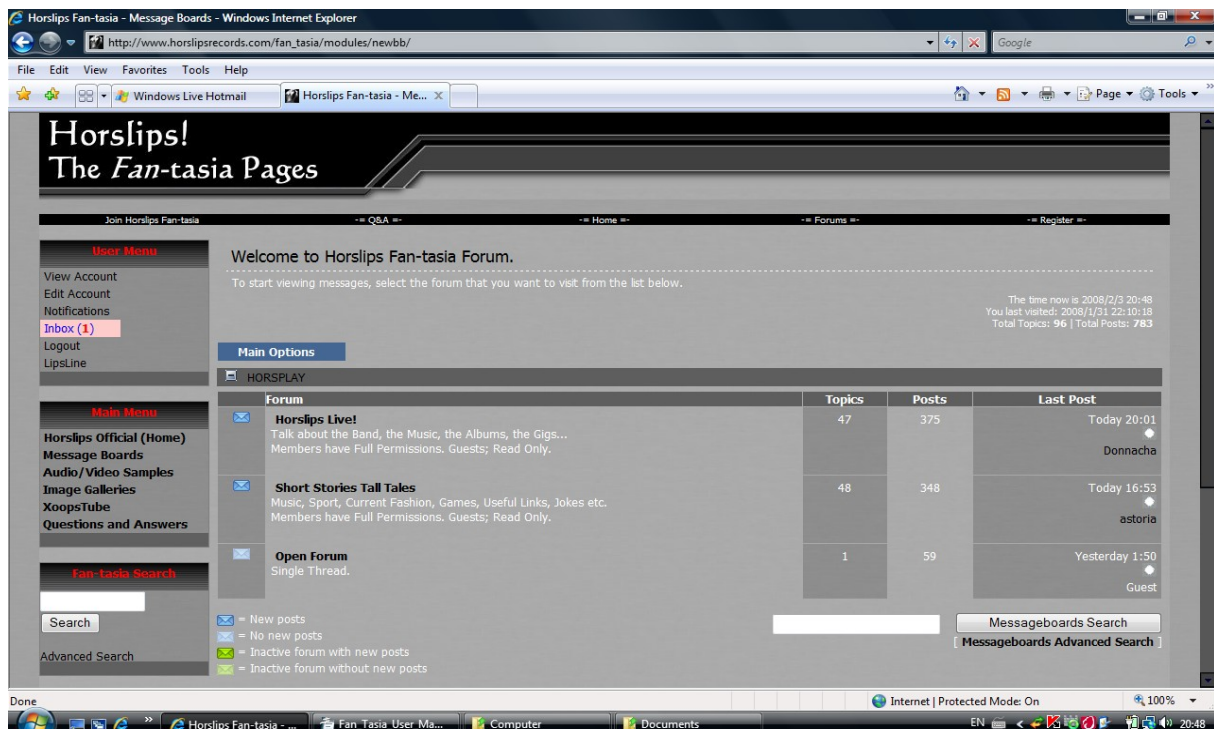

Questions and Answers: Over time the users of the site have added useful questions as to the usage of the Web Site. This Q&A complements this user manual. This option will not be covered any further.

Fan-tasia Search: This allows to search for posts using word search. More specific information is available at the following URL http://www.horslipsrecords.com/fan_tasia/modules/newbb/viewtopic.php?topic_id=62&forum=3

Themes: You can choose a different colour scheme for the Fan-tasia pages. (However your preference will not be saved.) This option will not be covered any further.

When you are logged on the main page looks like the following (Pic 2):

(Pic 2)

The additional options are as follows:

Notifications: There you can configure how and if you wish to be notified of certain events.

Inbox: This is the internal Private Message facility, it's a little bit like email but with basic functionality. Site-Users can send each other messages. This should not really be relied upon as an email system. This is merely useful for sending quick information to one another.

Logout: Before leaving the site you can exit properly using the logout option. This option does not require any further coverage. This is important if you share your PC with someone else.

Lipsline: This is the chat room where members can chat on-line. On some occasion someone may suggest a time and a day and try and gather as many people as possible. The facility can be used by Registered users only.

4 ACCOUNT REGISTRATION

If you have not yet registered, then click on “Register now”. You will be presented with the following page (Pic 3):

The screenshot shows the 'User Registration' page of the Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages website. The page is displayed in a Windows Internet Explorer browser window. The URL is http://www.horslipsrecords.com/fan_tasia/register.php. The page has a dark header with the site name. Below the header is a navigation bar with links: Join Horslips Fan-tasia, Q&A, Home, Forums, and Register. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column contains a 'Login' section with fields for Username and Password, a 'User Login' button, and links for 'Lost Password?', 'Register now!', and 'Register - Manually'. Below this is a 'Main Menu' section with links to 'Horslips Official (Home)', 'Message Boards', 'Audio/Video Samples', 'Image Galleries', 'XoopsTube', and 'Questions and Answers'. At the bottom of the left column is a 'Fan-tasia Search' section with a search box and a 'Search' button. The right column contains the 'User Registration' form. It has fields for Username, Email, Password, and Verify Password, each marked with a red star indicating it is mandatory. There is a checkbox for 'Allow other users to view my email address'. Below these is a 'Website' field and a 'Time Zone' dropdown menu set to '(GMT) Greenwich Mean Time, London, Dublin, Lisbon, Casablanca, Monrovia'. There is a radio button for 'Yes' and a radio button for 'No' under the heading 'Receive occasional email notices from administrators and moderators?'. Below this is a 'Disclaimer' section with a text area containing a disclaimer about posting false, defamatory, inaccurate, abusive, vulgar, hateful, harassing, obscene, profane, sexually oriented, threatening, invasive of the privacy of someone, adult material, or otherwise in violation of any International law. It also states 'You also agree not to post any copyrighted material unless you own the copyright'. There is a checkbox for 'I agree to the above' and a 'Submit' button at the bottom of the form. The browser window shows several tabs: 'Windows Live Hotmail', 'MySpace.com', 'Horslips Fan-tasia - Messa...', and 'Horslips Fan-tasia - Th...'. The status bar at the bottom indicates 'Internet | Protected Mode: On' and '100%' zoom.

Enter the following fields (those field marked with a red star are mandatory fields):

Username: Here enter your nickname or your first name or whatever you would like to be known as. You may use spaces, should you want a name in the format of, for example, Flying Teapot.

Email: Here enter your valid email address. This will not be shown to other users, unless you later choose to click on "show email address" in the account configuration page, described in the next sub section.

Password: Enter a password of your choice

Verify Password: Re-enter the same password

Website: You may wish to enter a website address, this field is shown to everyone opening your profile

Time Zone: Chose the your location's time zone using the drop down button

I agree.....: You must click "I agree to the above"

Now click on the Submit button

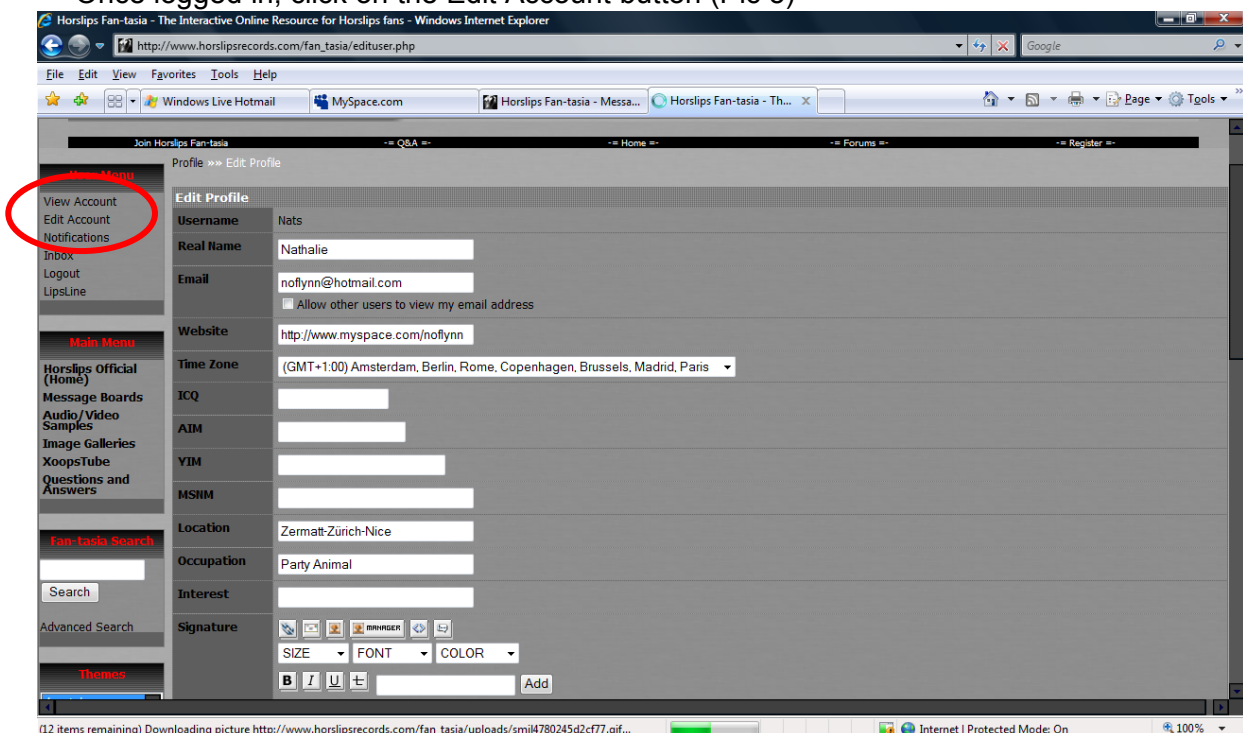

Within a few seconds, you should receive an email asking you to click on a link to validate your account. Once you have performed this step, you are an official registered user. If you have problems with this step please contact the site administrator.

Now login to your account

5 EDIT ACCOUNT

Now that you are a registered user, there are a few things which you can customize as your preferences.

Once logged in, click on the Edit Account button (Pic 5)

Pic 5

From the “Edit Account” option, you can modify further your account as follows:

You can add your “Real Name”, this field will not be made available to others viewing your profile.

You may chose to make your email address visible or not by clicking on “Allow users to view my email address”. Be aware that this makes your email address visible to everybody – including web robots, and crawlers – you may well get spammed.

ICQ, AIM, YIM, MSNM, are various means of internet communication – you can include relevant details here should you wish others to be able to view them.

Location, here you may wish to enter your home locations, this field will be showed on every post which you submit.

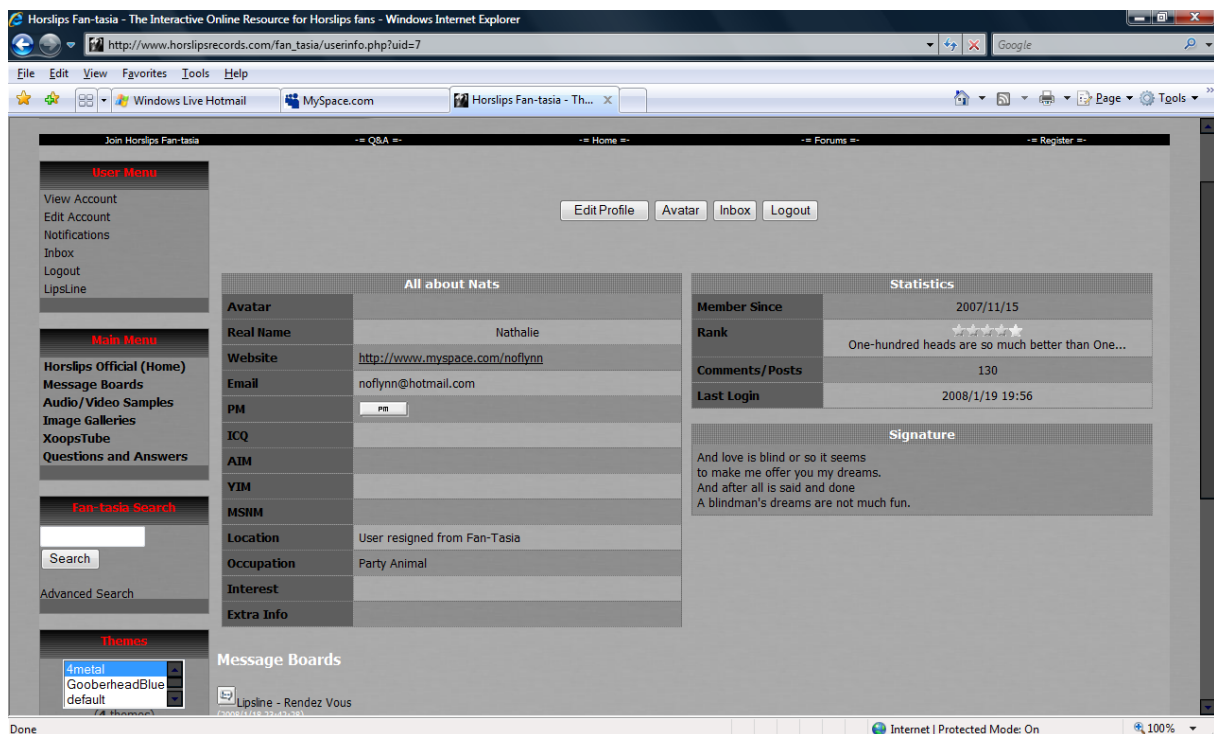

Occupation, you may choose to include what you do - or not, or something funny such as Party Animal. This field is visible to users viewing your profile.

Interest, as per “Occupation” above.

Signature, the signature can be anything you like, such as song lyric, a saying etc... This signature can be attached to every post you submit. In the text box simply type the text you want and format it further if you wish.

6 VIEW ACCOUNT

You can further modify your account with the other option “View Account” (Pic 6)

Pic 6

From this screen you can go to the “Edit Account” option using the “Edit Profile” button, this is covered on the previous page.

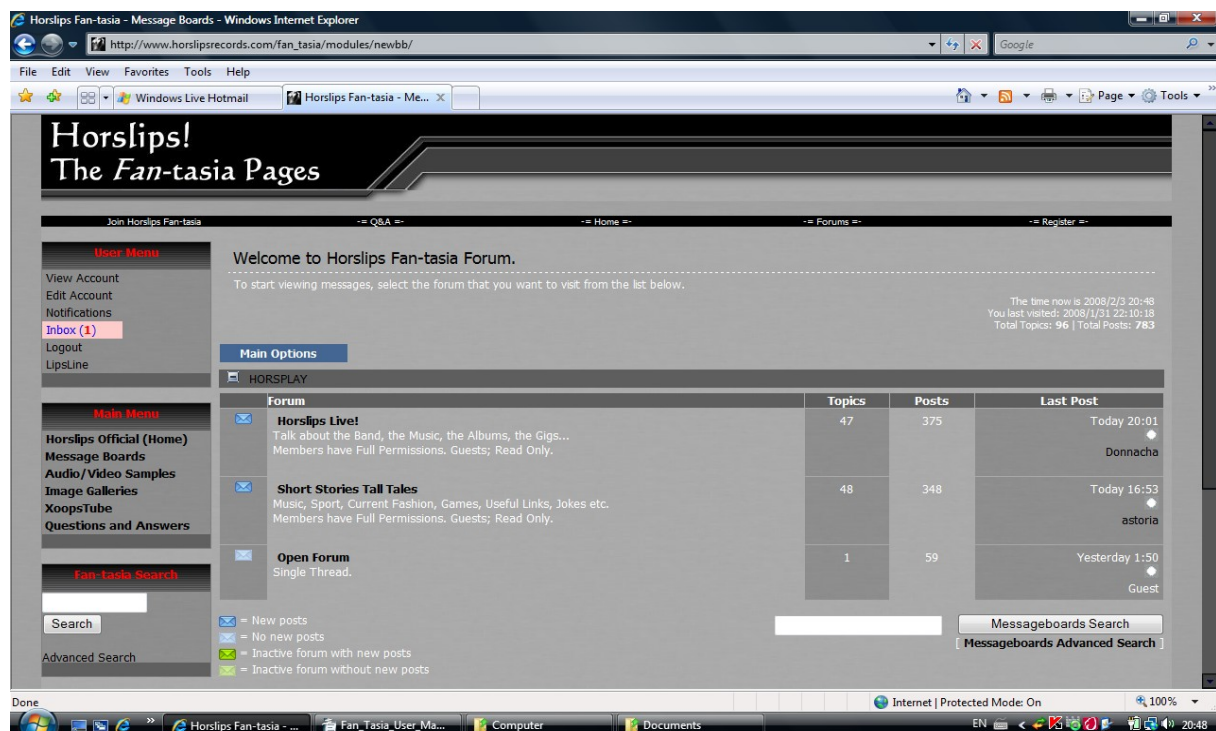

It is from this option that you can load your avatar. An avatar is a little picture which references yourself. Click on “Avatar”, browse to your file and click “Submit”

Your Avatar picture can have a maximum of 1000 Kb in size and a maximum of 100x100 Pixel resolution. You should edit your image using any image handling software, or say a freeware program such as Irfanview, downloadable from the Internet. Using the option “Image/Resize” you can give it new values. How to perform this action is beyond the scope of this guide. The link to Irfanview is the following <http://www.tucows.com/preview/415586>. Just click “Download” and then install.

7 MESSAGE BOARDS

This is by far the most important option and this guide will concentrate on the various ways posts can be read and the options related to submission.

The “Message Boards” option brings the following screen (Pic 7)

Pic 7

You are presented with 3 fora. The first one “Horslips Live!” and as its name indicates it, is reserved for Horslips related topics/subjects. At the time of this writing, since the Web Site is new and users are still getting used to this sort of functionality, a lot of non-related Horslips topics and threads have been submitted there. Eventually, these topics may be moved to the next forum down.

The forum “Short Stories Tall Tales” is for any non Horslips related topics, fun and funky stuff can be added under this forum. This forum is currently used along the lines as that of the old Guestbook. It has not however been possible to really simulate the Guestbook as such. For the purpose of this manual all demonstration will be carried out from within this forum.

The third forum, “Open forum”. Following suggestions made to Admin, This allows a single continuous thread under one single topic. In this manner users would not be able to create new threads so as to emulate, in some way, the old Guestbook

There are different ways to view posts, it is recommended to try them all in order to get a better look and feel of the forum as a whole. Furthermore each method of viewing is not exclusive but rather they all compliment each other, depending what you wish to achieve.

8 VIEW POSTS

From the main fora page, you can view posts in the following manner (Pic 8):

Pic 8

First let's go through the 3 columns on the right hand side. The “Topics” column refers to how many Topics/titled subjects are behind it. The “Post” column refers to the number of total posts amongst all topics behind this forum, and finally the “Last Post” column refers to the last person who posted a thread in any of the possible topics behind.

From the “Main Options” menu (first notice the little envelope symbols at the bottom (red arrow), you need to understand these to be able to use some options to their best of their abilities.)

The first two options “Mark all forums read” and “Mark all forums unread” (although the latter would seldom be used) are useful only at the end of any session. This is particularly good if you do not login everyday. This merely helps to draw your eye to forums or topics which you haven't read upon your next login. This is when the envelope symbols come into play. Before ending your session, and if you are satisfied that you have read anything outstanding, then don't forget to click "Mark all forums read".

The next option down "View all Posts" if used from the main "Message Boards" page, is useful for a newbie. This lists in a continuous list all posts submitted on this forum in date order, regardless of which topic of the forum the post comes from. This method could however confuse the user, as this offers no continuity of the threads. Once clicking "View all Posts", the user can further change his viewing preference as follows (Pic 9).

Pic 9

The "Oldest First Option" is self explanatory. The view "Compact" option (being opposite of flat) removes the left hand side column, namely the posting user information. A sample is shown below (Pic 10)

Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages

Pic 10

Now back to the main “Message Boards” page to view the other options (Pic 11)

Pic 11

“View New Posts”, this is when the option “Mark all Forums Read” comes into play. This will show you all posts you have not read since your last logon. This will however present you all threads in date order, and again the topics will be mixed together as a result. This is the quickest method to see what you have not yet read. The more manual methods to view posts will be explained further down. The option “View New Posts” when used from within the main “Message Boards” page (top view), all new posts across all fora will be displayed.

Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages

“View Digest”, this functionality has not been configured on the Site, and serves no purpose at present.

“View unreplied topics”, this would show any topic which have not yet been replied to and which thus have a count of “0” replies (Pic 12). This will show all unreplied topics from within all forums.

The screenshot shows the 'Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages' forum interface. The page title is 'Horslips Fan-tasia - Message Boards - unreplied topics'. The URL is 'http://www.horslipsrecords.com/fan_tasia/modules/newbb/viewall.php?type=unreplied'. The page features a navigation bar with links like 'Join Horslips Fan-tasia', 'Q&A', 'Home', 'Forums', and 'Register'. A 'User Menu' on the left includes options like 'View Account', 'Edit Account', 'Notifications', 'Inbox', 'Logout', and 'LipsLine'. A 'Main Menu' includes 'Horslips Official (Home)', 'Message Boards', 'Audio/Video Samples', 'Image Galleries', 'XoopsTube', and 'Questions and Answers'. A 'Fan-tasia Search' box is also present. The main content area displays a table of topics with columns: Topics, Forum, Replies, Poster, Views, and Date. A red circle highlights the 'Replies' column, which shows '0' for all topics. The topics listed include 'Eamon Carr's Tips for Stardom', 'Horslips on Japan's mini lps', 'FAQ JoeFloorboard (off topic - site account issue)', 'Stars are back...', 'Vibe for Philo', 'Happy Surfin' Santa & Santa City, Derry', 'Happy Birthday Barry', and 'Eamon Carr siting in NYC Irish Voice Column'. The table is sorted by 'last post time' in 'Descending order' from 'last 100 days'.

Back to the main “Message Boards” page

The option “View Unread Topics” is similar as that of “View New Posts”. The “Unread Topics” option will show you all of the topics unread by you. Example is showed below (Pic 13). Again from the top view, this will show all new topics from all fora.

Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages

Pic 13

This shows a short list of titled topics in which there is at least one post/thread which you have not read. Again this must be used in conjunction with the option “Mark all Forums Read”

Finally, at the bottom of the “Main Menu” there is an option to either “Hover” or “Click” the menu option. This serves however very little purpose. The default is set to “Hover”, this means that my placing the mouse over the “Main menu” on the main “Message Boards” page or on the “Topic Options” within a forum itself, you can see the options as you hover and you can select an option there and then. With the option “Click” you have to physically click on the “Main Menu” or “Topic Options” to select an option.

The above covered all viewing aspects from the point of view of the “Menu Option” menu on the main “Message Boards” page, from a top view. From this viewing page, there is however one more quick viewing option available.

On the far right hand side, next to each forum, in the column “Last Post”, you can go directly to that very last post. However, this will not direct you to other unread posts from other topics. For this you will have to use a different view function from the many available options.

All viewing methods from within the main “Message Boards” have now been covered. The same options are available within any forum itself (behind the main “Message Boards”) but these relate to one lower level. As the options with the forum itself are more or less the same as that from the top level, only a very brief description is given here.

Open the “Short Story Tall Tales” forum (Pic 14)

The screenshot displays the Horslips Fan-tasia Forum interface. The browser window shows the URL http://www.horslipsrecords.com/fan_tasia/modules/newbb/viewforum.php?forum=3. The forum page features a header with the site name and navigation links. A left sidebar contains a 'User Menu' and 'Main Menu'. The main content area shows a forum listing table with columns for Topic, Poster, Publish time, Replies, Views, and Date. A 'Forum options' dropdown menu is open, showing options like 'Mark all topics read', 'View all posts', and 'View New posts'. A red arrow points to a mini page icon in the 'Date' column of the forum listing.

Pic 14

Each option here performs the same function as that from top view (main “Message Boards”, but views will be restricted to post and topics from within the forum you are in. It is probably unnecessary to detail these options further.

The right hand side columns describe the following:

The “Poster” column refers to the person who opened the new topic. The “Publish Time” column refers to the date it was open. The “Replies” column refers to the number of thread belonging to this topic. The “Views” column refers to the number of hits, this topic received in total, across all threads for this topic. Finally the “Date” column refers to the last post with its poster name for this particular topic.

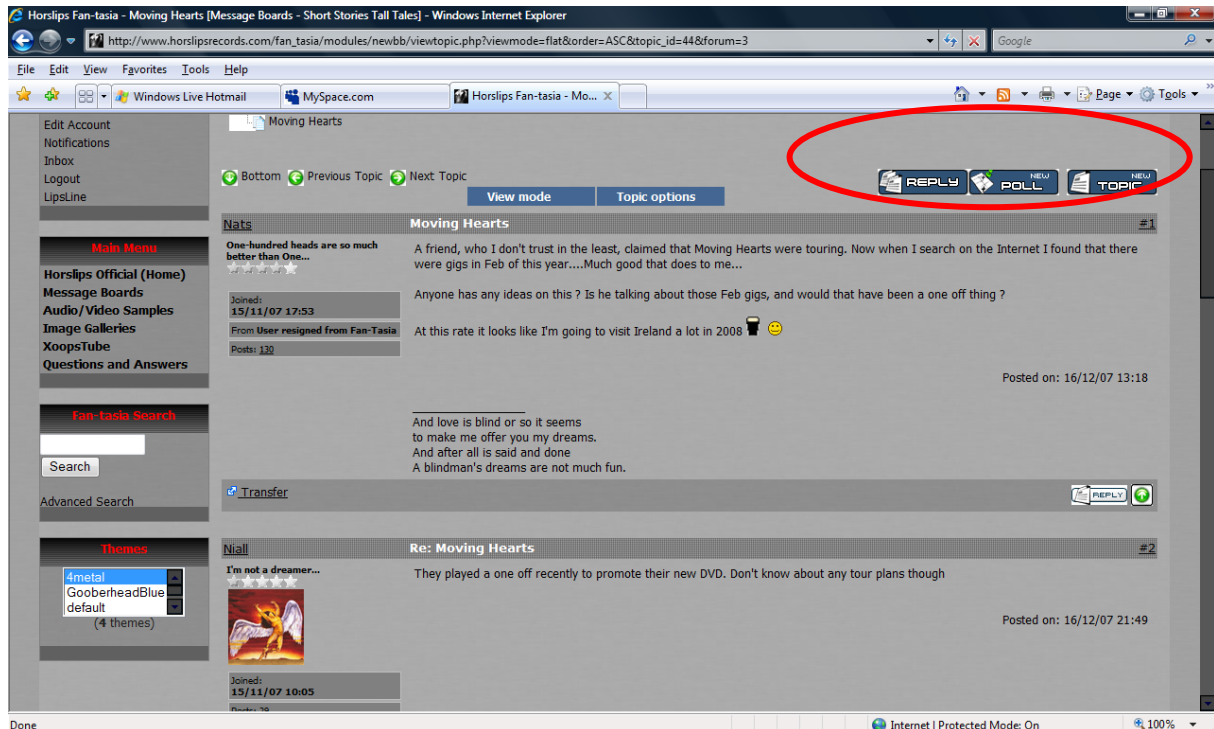

In the last column you will notice a mini page (red arrow), this is another quick way to get to the very last post of any given topic. By clicking on the mini page, you will be taken to the last thread, but not only that, you will have the opportunity to go back up the topic in sequence, should you have missed posts in between.

Additionally, wherever in the forum you see the name of a user, you can click on that user to open their profile, although only information that that particular user wishes to make available is divulged.

The most basic method to view posts will now be covered. To manually navigate around the various topics, simply click each topic in turn and view each thread in the order you wish. This will list all post in order in continuous listing. This is by far the easiest way to ensure you have not missed any posts and to follow a topic in the correct order.

9 SUBMITTING POSTS

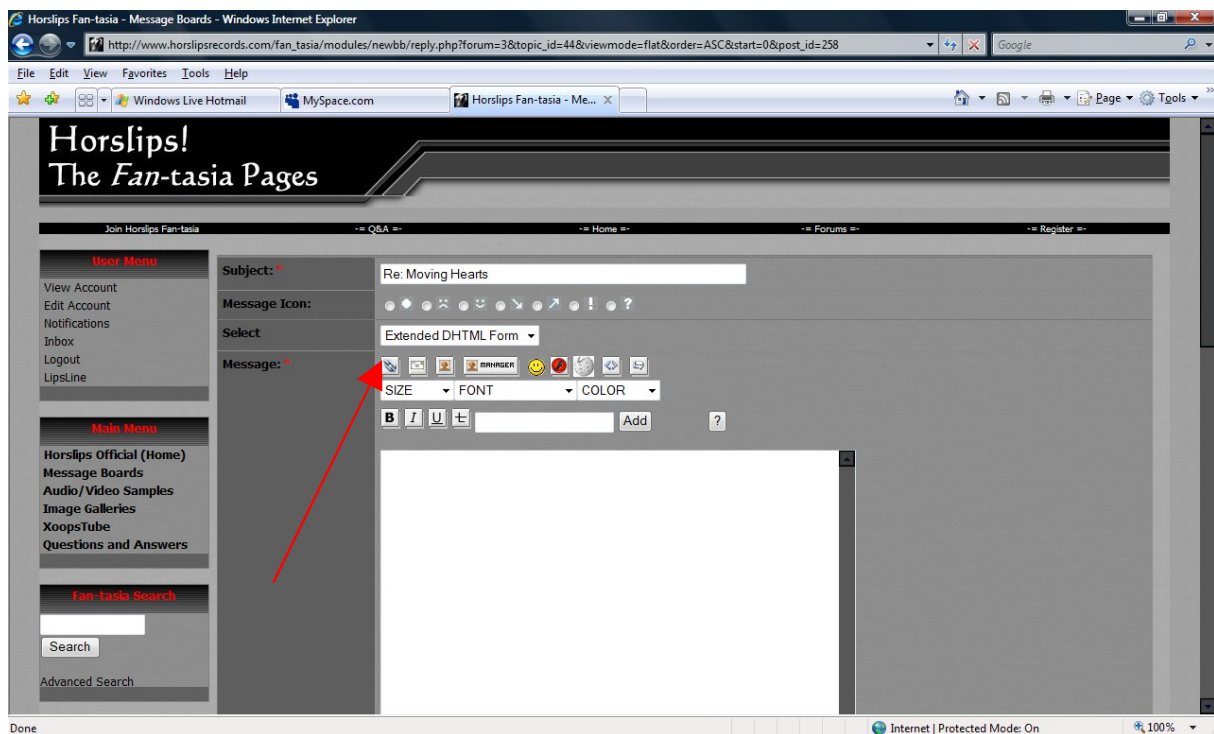

Submitting posts is in fact easier than getting around reading them. Each post has its own “Reply” button (Pic 15)

Pic 15

When you wish to add a thread, this is to say, reply to a comment, click on the “Reply” button from within any post from the given topic. When you reply to a particular post within the topic, latest reply of any topic will go to the bottom when you are viewing the topic in flat or compact mode, however in “Threaded Mode” you will see if someone has responded to a particular message within that topic. There is however one reason why you would want to click the “Reply” button from within the topic that you want to reply to and this will be explained further down. After clicking the “Reply” button you get presented with the submit post screen (Pic 16)

Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages

Pic 16

Here you can choose to change the subject (this does not however change the main topic name). But if posts have started to deviate from the main topic name then you can change the subject here to make it easier to follow up on things.

In the text box, enter your post text. You can use smileys, change fonts and colours. You can add automatic formatting for an Internet URL link using the button marked with the red arrow above. As the URL formatting is quite useful, a small explanation follows.

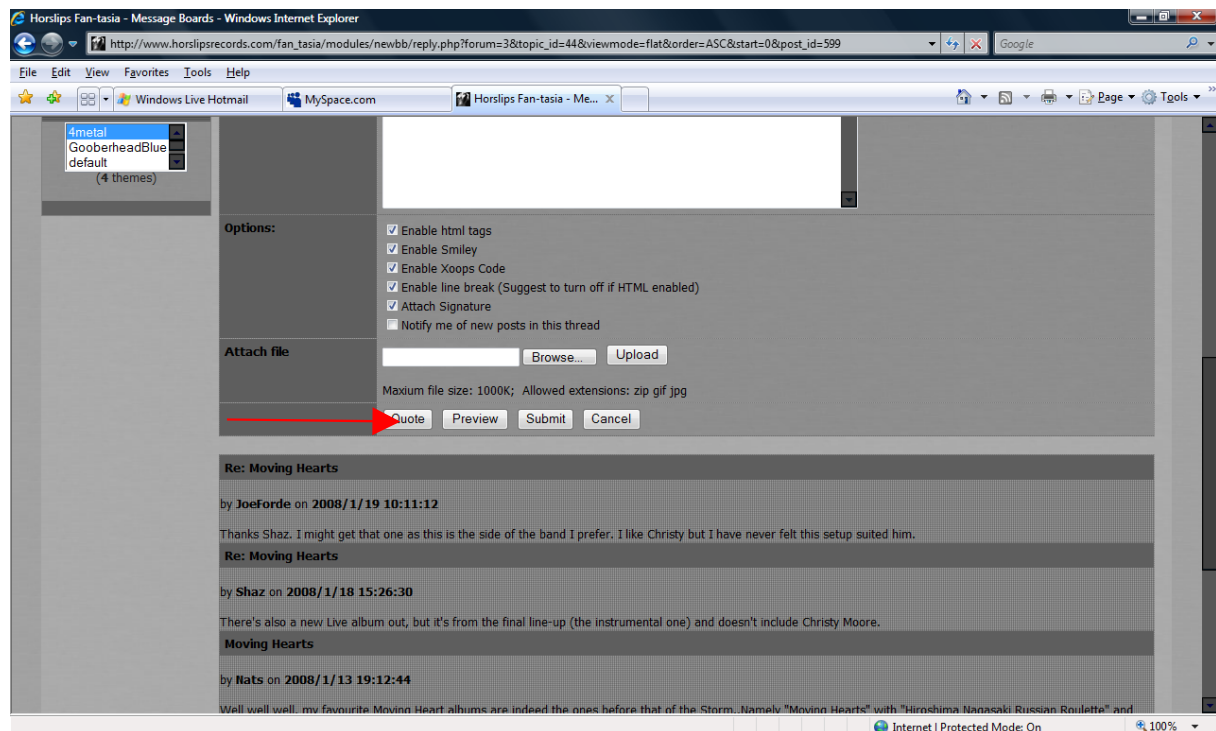

If you want to include an internet link within your post, copy the link from within your Browser so it is kept in the buffer, then in the “Reply” form, click the “Create Link” button, you will be asked to enter your URL, there paste your URL, click OK, then you will be prompted to give a name for the link, here chose any short name you wish, in relation to the URL, for example “The Tain”, if your URL is sending you to a web site regarding this album. This is just a handy way of presenting a URL. The other formatting will not be covered further. At the bottom of the “Reply” form, you can choose whether or not to add your signature for this current post only, amongst turning off other formatting option. This is however only valid for this one post.

Should you wish to reply to one particular post and perhaps wish to quote something from it in your message, then this is the time you need to click on the “Reply” button from the post in question.

This will allow to then click on the “Quote” option at the bottom of the “Reply” form (Pic 17)

Horslips!

The Fan-tasia Pages

Pic 17

It is useful to use the “Quote” function so as to help other users know what an answer may be related to, particularly when the message in question may be many posts up the line.

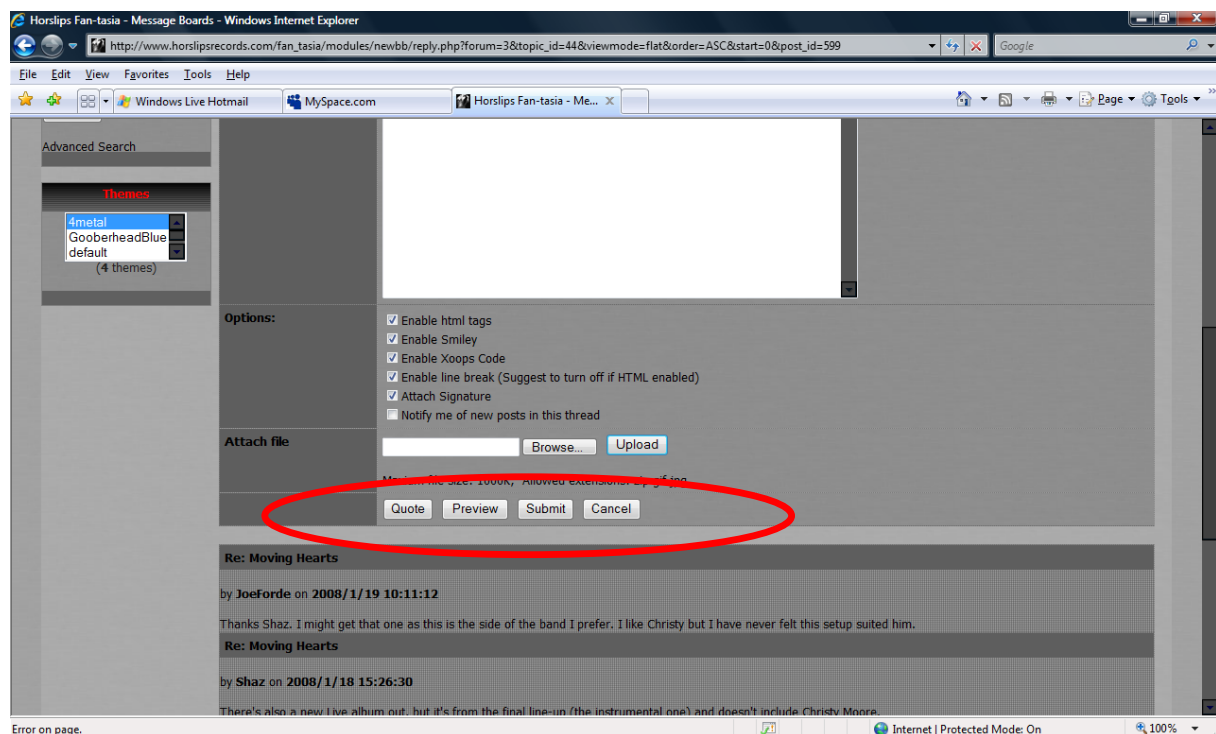

When clicking this option, the content of the previous post will be inserted inside your reply body, it is then up to you to remove the bits from it you don't wish to Include (Pic 18), but be careful not to change the context if doing so.

Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages

Pic 18

When you are done with your text, simply click “Preview” or “Submit” at the bottom. With preview you have the chance to look what your message will look like with your formatting. If you are not happy with it click on “Edit” at the bottom (Pic 19).

Pic 19

Or simply cancel if you don't wish to submit your post any more.

If you have clicked "Submit" and when viewing it you are not content with what you have posted, you have a 10 minute grace period to edit it.

If you feel your post does not belong to any already existing topic, then click on "New Topic" (Pic 15 above) and give your new topic a significant name. It may be a good idea to check that someone else has not already started a thread on the topic which is closely related to your intended subject matter.

Within your post, you can also upload an image, simply click on "Browse" at the bottom, find your file and click "Upload". There is however a limitation of a size of 1000 Kb and a pixel resolution of 1000x1000. Again use a tool such as Irfanview to downsize your pictures.

10 SUBMITTING A POLL

The same way you would create a new "Topic", you have the ability to also create a "Poll", a poll is simply a vote on a subject where people agree or disagree. An example for a poll would be, what is the best Horslips Album?, etc

To Add a Poll select the "New Poll" option

You will be taken to the Standard Message interface (i.e. the same as if you were to make a post).

It is suggested you use this to introduce the poll as a new discussion thread.

When you "submit" you will be taken to a Poll-Setter page. Put in your poll question and various answer options, e.g. Yes, No, I don't understand the question, I am going to the pub. Each answer get assigned a colour.

Submit that the Poll.

Give it a while for the database to update and your cache to refresh (for the uninitiated, [or the impatient] - be patient!)

Only Registered Users can set up, vote or for that matter even see the results of Polls.

Only the "Horslips Live!" and "Short Stories Tall Tales" message boards can be used for this function.

11 USER RANKING

The higher posts count you have in your credit, the higher the level you enter. Each time you enter a level a new phrase is attached to your user name on all your posts. You start with the Phrase "Happy to Meet", at this stage you have 6 white stars. Each time you go up a level, you also receive a grey star, until all 6 are grey.

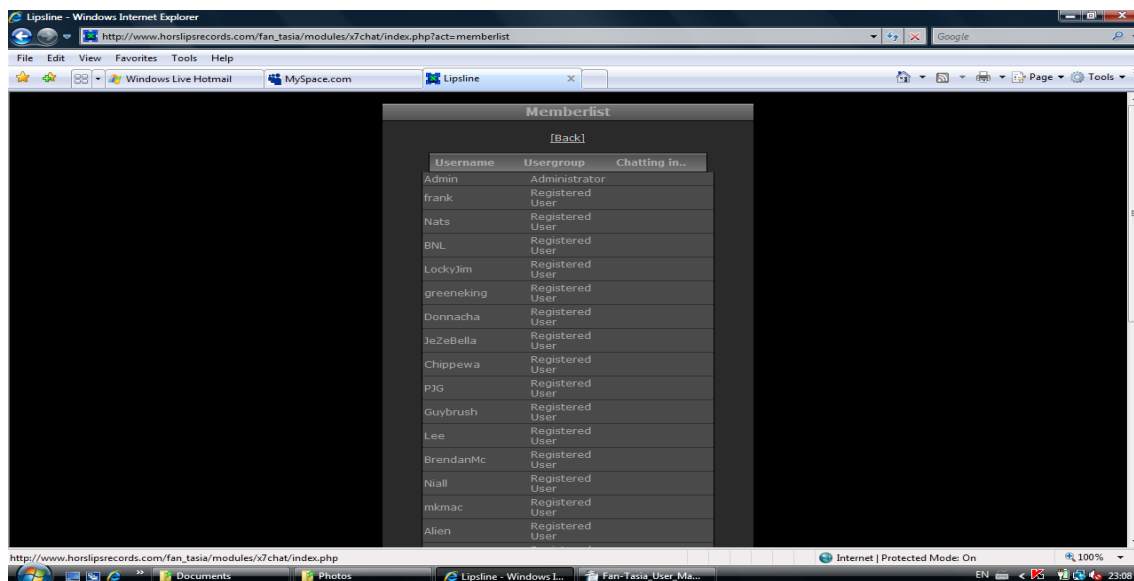

12 LIPSLINE

Lipsline is the interactive chat room powered by X7 Chat. Users can meet up and chat on line in real time. To access the chat room, click "Lipsline" from the menu on the left hand side. This will open the following (Pic 20)

Pic 20

The room to use is "General Chat" other rooms can be created. The number of users 0/50 depicts how many users are currently in the chat room. 0 means that no one is there. If you would like to know who is in the chat room before entering it, then simply click on "Member List" (Pic 21).

Pic 21

If someone is in the chat room, there will be a mention of this under the column “Chatting in”, next to the user name, and it will simply state “General Chat” to indicate that such and such user is in in the “General Chat” room. In this case all users are in the “General Chat Room”. Once you have established who is in the room, click on [back] and click on “General Chat” to enter the room (Pic 22).

To use some of the chat room functionality such as private chat, smileys, fonts sizes, you must have your browser configured to allow “pop up” windows. On occasion and if configured so your computer will ask you to allow or block the pop up windows. You may not know that you have a private chat request if your pop ups are completely blocked.

Horslips!

Pic 22

When you enter the room, you will only see the part of the conversation since the time you entered. On the right hand side, you will see all users currently in the room. By clicking a user, you load their profile and you can view information about them, provided they have themselves configured their profile (Pic 23). Lipsline profile configuration is beyond the scope of this guide and is self explanatory, by clicking on the various options.

Pic 23

Here just chat away to your heart's content, practice changing colours for your chatting, as the default black is not easy to read. Your colour preference will then be saved. Practice using the smileys and the font sizes (don't forget about the pop up blocker).

One more functionality however, which this guide will cover is the ability to request a private chat with a user in the room, so you can simultaneously have a private conversation as well as carry on with the public chat. In the right hand side, where all the member names are displayed, load the profile of the user you wish to have a private chat, by clicking on the user name, then at the bottom of his profile, click "Request Chat" (see red arrow above, Pic 23)

To exit the room click on "Logout"

A tip to attract people into the chat room is to go in yourself and leave the sound turn on your computer. When people see that at least one person is in the chat room, they are inclined to join. You can move away from the PC and hear if someone has entered as a "ding ding" sound can be heard (well provided you are in the proximity).

13 NOTIFICATIONS

Various notifications can be set in different places as follows:.

First there is a global notification option under the main "Message Boards" option (Pic 24)

Horslips! The Fan-tasia Pages

Here you can chose to be notified by email of any new posts and/or any new fora are created. This could be however disturbing.? Do you mean that this can result in many messages entering your email inbox?

Further notification options are located under the option “Notifications”, on the left hand side menu. These relate to questions submitted by yourself for the Q&A area (Pic 25)

Finally under the “Edit Account” menu option, you can set how you wish to be notified for events such as Web Site updates. You can either select to disable the option, use your main email address or simply the private message (Inbox) facility.

14 INBOX

This is the internal Private Message facility which allows users to contact each other. When logging on, you will know if you have an unread message in your inbox as it will have a count next to “Inbox” and will be highlighted in pink (Pic 26). The usage of this facility is self explanatory.

16 IMAGE GALLERY

There you can submit photos or images. There are various categories to choose from but you may not create a category there. You can contact Admin to suggest a new category. To load a photo just select a category, click "Add Photo", browse and upload. Again respect the size and resolution restrictions. To submit a photo, under the "Image Gallery" menu option, there is a sub menu option "Submit"

17 XOOPSTUBE

There you can add links directly to Youtube videos. Follow the instruction, but pay attention to the "Video Embedded Code", do not add the full URL, but only its last code part.

Again to submit a link, under the "Xoopstube" menu option on the left, there is a sub menu option "Submit"

18 FAN-TASIA SEARCH

The search option, on the left hand side menu lets you search for posts using a word search, for example, all posts with the words Dearg Doom. In the "Advanced Search" option you can use operators such as AND and restrict to an area in the Web Site etc. (Pic 28). A search option is also available in all fora.
